Greatly disguised by asbestos and asphalt. This is probably an early West Street residence, about 1790. There is a brick base and a chimney on the westside of the roof. Windows are later 2/2 on 2nd storey, 1/1 on first storey, 3 bays with one central roof dormer. This dormer is key to house's former appearance, 6/6 window, triangular roof with returns. 91 West Street has good proportions and probably much of earlier fabric is under the asbestos shingling. The house fits in well on the Street, being the same size and scale as its neighbors 95-97 West and nearly identical to 3 buildings east of it toward Cathedral Street. The oldest building on the block w. of Asbury Methodist Church. Shows little evidence of wear - no visible sag.
